PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

ANOTHER HOLD UP.

OCCURRED ON THIRD STREET LAST NIGHT.

E. E. SMITH THE VICTIM.

At the Point of a Revolver He Was Compelled to Stand and Surrender.

E. E. Smith, who resides at No. 1619 East Fifth street and is in the employ of Henry Shaffer, was held up at Third and Hancock streets, at 9:30 o'clock last night, by two men, and robbed of a $5 bill and $1.85 in silver.

Smith says the men followed him for a couple of blocks, and just as he was turning off of Third into Hancock one of the two men touched him on the shoulder, with the remark, "Here, partner, hand over your cash."

On turning around, Smith looked into the muzzle of two revolvers that were held by the second highwayman, so he promptly handed over all the cash he had and resumed his journey.

Both robbers were dressed in dark clothing and were about 5 feet 8 inches in height. One wore a heavy mustache, while the other had a smooth face. There is no clue to the identity of the robbers.

THE FARMERS TO-MORROW.

They Will be Here for a Conference of Two Days.

There is to be a state conference of farmers in Sedalia to-morrow, and Railroad Commissioner Hickman, who is at the head of the movement, will arrive from the state capital this afternoon for the purpose of concluding the preliminary arrangements for the two days' meeting.

The meeting will be called to order at the court house at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning, and it is expected that there will be three sessions on each of the two days.

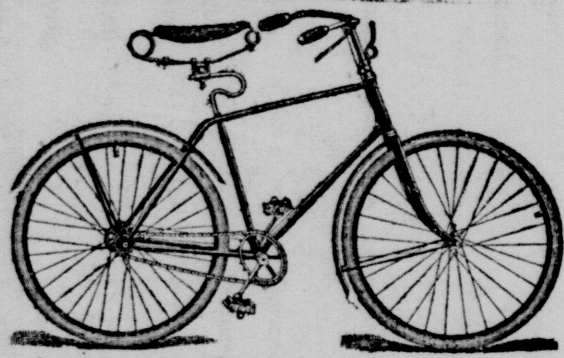

The object of the meeting is to perfect an organization of farmers and laboring men in general for mutual protection. It is claimed that there is entirely too much politics in the Farmers' and Laborers' Union. The new organization is to embrace all of the good features of the alliance, but the bad ones are to be lopped off.

Of course some of the leaders of the F. and L. U. are opposed to the Sedalia meeting, and have labored unceasingly to make it a failure. They will not be present themselves, and they have been working for weeks past to keep others away. How well their work has been done will be revealed to-morrow.

When seen to-day Mr. Hart stated that he knew very little regarding what it was hoped to accomplish by Railroad Commissioner Hickman and those who are interested with him in the movement, but he feels satisfied that members of any laboring organization will be permitted to participate in the meetings.

No Divorce Granted Here. Circuit Clerk T. A. Fowler to-day received a letter from Chas. Tharp, president of the Western Cement Co., of Chicago, asking if it was true, as he had been informed, that his wife had obtained a divorce from him in this city in June, 1892, on the ground of failure to support. If so, he had been greatly wronged, the writer of the letter said, as instead of leaving her, she left him, and it was intimated that the woman was not what she should be.

A search of the divorce records failed to reveal the name of Tharp, and the inquirer was so informed in the letter that will reach him to-morrow.

"The only news I have heard Tuesday," said Water Works Receiver Strohm, "was a trade between Dick Ash and James Barr by which the former gave the latter bond 95 in the Pettis County Investment company for a house and lot on North Ash street. Mr. Ash was out $30 in cash for the bond, and Mr. Barr considers the property traded cost him first and last $1,200. The bond is for $1,000 and will soon mature."—Nevada Post.

Adjudged Insane To-day.

Mrs. Stella Lomaster, of East Sedalia, wife of a railroad man and the mother of two children, was adjudged insane before the county court this forenoon, and will be taken to the asylum at Nevada this evening by Deputy Sheriff Bob Ramsey.

WILL CLOSE ALL!

THE KANSAS MINERS REMAIN FIRM.

WILL STOP ALL MINING.

They Visit Mines Near Pittsburg and Induce Others to Join the Strike.

PITTSBURG, Kas., July 18.—Yesterday another parade was made by the strikers, this time without the leadership of President Walters, who has gone to Rich Hill, Mo., in the interest of the miners. They visited eight strip pits and shafts, among them those operated by W. C. Beck, C. A. Beck, Root & Houghlon Bros., and the gin shafts operated by the Pittsburg Vitrified Brick company and Cartwright.

The men were orderly and most of the miners at work agreed to quit work. A crowd of women visited the Morgan Lee pit and two men quit. A further visit was to be made this afternoon, but rain prevented. It seems to be the intention to stop the mining of all coal, but the executive committee have claimed all along they only desired to stop the shipment of commercial coal.

The stopping of the supply of coal for home consumption and the use of home industries would bring public sentiment against the strikers, and it is said the leaders advocate no such measure.

Two of the Morgan Lee men who had been sworn in as deputy sheriffs became intoxicated and terrorized Midway with their revolvers. They were arrested. Secretary Lacy left for Scammon, where he goes on matters pertaining to the strike. Some of the men in the parade claimed they intended to close down all coal supply, among the rest that which furnished the smelters with fuel.

Police Court.

There were three convictions for drunkenness and one for trespassing in the police court this morning. Two cases were dismissed—one for the alleged carrying of a concealed weapon and the other an alleged trespasser.

Both Are Training Hard.

Joe Watkins is being trained by Lou Baptiste for his match with J. C. Block on Friday night, and the latter is being trained by Eldred Harrison. A prolonged contest is promised, and no one cares to place a penny as to who will be the winner.

Taken to the "Pen."

Sheriff Ben F. Kelly, of Andrew county, passed east on the noon train to-day, having in custody George Sarver, who goes to the penitentiary for two years for forgery.

Celebrating Their Birthdays.

Mrs. Peter Scally, her son John and her little 2-year-old grandson are celebrating their respective birthdays to-day at Officer Scally's home. All three were born on July 18—Mrs. Scally 62 years ago, John 34 years ago and the grandson two

THE RIFLES IN CAMP.

They Are Having a Jolly Good Time Down at Nevada.

The Nevada Mail of yesterday devotes nearly five columns to the annual encampment of the Second regiment at that point, and from its report the following paragraphs are clipped:

Capt. Harry Demuth, of Sedalia, is one of the best known men in the Missouri soldiery. He is a superb company commander, and one of the most genial men that ever went into camp—either for fight or fun. Capt. Demuth has been postmaster at Sedalia for the past several years, but he never becomes too much engrossed in business to keep him out of camp. All the military boys know and love him. Out of service he is "Genial Harry Demuth." In service he is always at his post. His company is one of the best in the state, and in splendid drill and discipline.

Lieut. Beck, of Company D, besides being one of the handsomest officers in the camp, is at the same time perhaps, the most fortunate. A stump was left in the enclosure of his quarters, which he utilizes with a large degree of pleasure when the chiggers begin their "drilling."

The Rifles will return home next Sunday night, and on arrival will no doubt have wonderful stories to relate regarding their trip.

present at the I. O. O. F. installation, returned home this morning. They conducted their work a little before midnight, but were compelled to lounge around the depot until 6:30 o'clock a. m. before they could catch a train to bring them home.

Death of a Child.

Lulu, aged three years and seven months, daughter of J. R. Stevens, living six miles south of the city, died last evening of cholera morbus and will be buried from Pleasant Valley church to-morrow.

Something Further From Dwight Tredway Regarding It.

Dwight Tredway, who returned to St. Louis last Saturday night, after a three days' sojourn here, was quoted as follows in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch of last evening:

"Mr. Greeley, my father-in-law, myself and other parties are behind the construction company referred to, and it is our intention to construct a railroad from Sedalia to Springfield.

"Of course we had a reason for our names not appearing as incorporators, and that part of it is in-

THE DEMOCRAT,
Sedalia, Mo.

OFFICE: 307 Ohio St. Telephone 232.

Official Paper of the City of Sedalia.

THE Ohio election will make or break a presidential boom for Governor McKinley.

STAND BY YOUR TOWN and its institutions. When the business men of a town loyally support each other they can laugh at hard times.

THERE is one public document that will be read to the bone, so to speak, and that is the forth coming message of Grover Cleveland.

TREASURY officials are confident that the worst of the financial flurry is over and that there will be a constant improvement from now on.

THIS country needs financial reform, but what it needs worse than anything else is immediate legislation tending to restore public confidence.

CONGRESSMAN CATCHINGS, of Mississippi, says that his section wants "good money and plenty of it." That is a platform upon which we can all most contentedly unite.

SUITS are to be brought in Nebraska to shut out and prohibit from doing business some forty insurance companies that are charged with having formed a trust for the purpose of maintaining inequitable and exorbitant rates.

THE charitable American millionaires who are going to give the Duke of Veragua a fortune certainly do not know of the suffering that exists in their own country; or do they think a foreign nobleman more worthy of their aid than an unfortunate American?

OUR little stringency is not worth mentioning, says the Post-Dispatch, when we know what has been going on in Australia, where John Bull does the financing and where silver takes no part in the financial difficulties. The stories coming from there are distressing.

JUDGE SILAS WOODSON, of the St. Joseph criminal court, has decided that the ordinance prohibiting the discharge of fire arms within the city limits is unconstitutional. If the supreme court affirms the decision the worthless curs and noisy cats, which sometimes make night hideous, will have to hide out.

THE Kansas City Times is ashamed of Champ Clark's New York speech, but, in sober, solemn truth, Champ told more of the real Missouri sentiment in the one speech than the Times has in all its editorials since it deserted the Chicago platform, the principles of its party and the interests of the west and became a goldbug organ.

THE rule against drunkenness on the part of employees is being most rigidly enforced by some of the railroads. The other day an appeal was made to General Manager Dickinson, of the Union Pacific, to reinstate certain suspended employees, but he stated most emphatically that no man who had been discharged for drunkenness would ever be reinstated.

THE democrats over in Saline, and there are lots of 'em and mighty good ones, have decided to hold a mass meeting in Marshall on July 24th to express their sentiments on questions that will occupy the attention of the extra session of congress. The call, which is signed by some of the best known men in the county, says: "We are opposed to goldbug domination in this country and desire to apprise our representatives in the national legislature of that fact."

THERE ought to be work enough going on in the way of public improvements in this city to afford employment to hundreds of people. We need more paved streets, more and better sidewalks and new and additional sewers. Money is scarce, to be sure, but that is the very time to push public improvements. It is the time when working men need employment and when business needs the impetus that would be given by the working of a large force in making needed improvements.

THE city council took a whack at the insurance companies last night and adopted a preamble and resolutions setting forth that insurance agents had entered into a combine for the purpose of forcing citizens to pay exorbitant rates for insurance and requesting Prosecuting Attorney Hoffman to prosecute all the members of such combine under the anti-trust law. This resolution will bring matters to an issue, and if the combine has been formed, as alleged, the fur will fly. That anti-trust law was made to be enforced, not for an ornament.

THE Kansas City Journal urges the business men of that community to keep cool and stand by the banks. It is good advice there and elsewhere. There are no institutions more intimately connected with the business affairs of a community, and none which make more earnest and intelligent efforts to serve the public. Of course the banker looks after his own interests, and it is right and natural that he should, but there are hundreds of business enterprises that have at some time in their history been saved from ruin by the banker. The banker, equally with the merchant, finds his harvest when money is plenty, and when times are hard he is put to extra exertion to find the cash for customers who need it.

FARMERS' CONFERENCE.

The farmers' conference which meets here to-morrow will be watched with interest by those who correctly measure the influence which the farmers of Missouri exercise upon the politics of the state. In grand old Missouri corn is king and agriculture dominates all other interests; when the farmer is prosperous the railroads, the merchants, and even the newspapers, wax rich and live happy.

Hence, in any well-defined, conservative movement in their own interests, the farmers will find the town people with them heart and soul.

But at a time like this the real farmer should bring his hand down hard on the demagogue and noisy agitator.

The present is not an opportune time for trying experiments or entering into new and untried paths, or even for exploding fireworks close around the powder magazine.

It is the conservative man who should be looked to as a leader now; the man who thinks much, talks little and acts only when he has a good, sound logical reason for his course.

The man who wants to overturn the universe at one fell swoop, make everybody rich by law, and immediately send himself to congress or some other choice location at the public crib, should be retired for the present, and used only on Fourth of July occasions when noise and fireworks are alone desired.

The country has heard from the bankers and the merchants, and is now anxious to hear from the farmers.

THE DEMOCRAT hopes they will be here to-morrow and bring their good, hard sense and conservatism to bear upon public questions, and tell us what congress should do to bring the greatest degree of prosperity to the great industry in which they are engaged and upon which we all depend to a greater or less degree for our success in business.

He Shot a Young Woman Who Refused to Marry Him.

HON. P. D. HASTAIN AT MOBILE, ALA.

HAD A DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

By Travel and Observation He Has Succeeded in Solving the Race Problem.

Hon. P. D. Hastain was at the Battle house in Mobile, Ala., on Sunday, from where he addressed an interesting letter to a Sedalia friend, and the DEMOCRAT has been permitted to copy a portion of the epistle, as follows:

After a long, dry, dusty and hot ride I find myself in a typical southern city for the first time in life. My trip, so far, has been, indeed, of great interest to me. I am at the Battle house, in Mobile, Ala., where I was directed by my friend, "Doc" Graham.

I find it the "southern hotel" of the city. One can stand upon the streets of Mobile and well imagine himself in Mexico or Spain. The streets are narrow, the houses old-fashioned, unpainted and dingy, and the people seem to be enjoying that freedom that we read of the people of Mexico and Spain.

One block from the hotel is the prettiest little park I have ever seen. Beautiful stone walks run diagonally from each corner to the center, where there is a fountain that spurts high in air a hundred streams. It is studded with live oaks that extend their boughs in the embrace of each other until almost every glimmer of sunshine is shut out, and serves as the bowery retreat of many of the sunny south's sweetest singers, the mocking bird, that make the very air tremulous with melody. I am reminded that this place was on the line of Sherman's famous march to the sea.

The Mobile river here flows into the bay, and the bay is sleeping as gently in the sunshine to-day as a babe would in its mother's arms. Looking at it, you would not think that any element could render it a furious demon.

I visited this morning the market place. There I found every nationality, from a white man down to a gypsy, vending fish, flesh, fowls and fruits.

My ride grew in interest to me after I left Cairo, Illinois. Many were the towns and cross roads we whirled through on our route, nearly all of which had the appearance of the seventh day—the day that God rested after his wonderful task of creation.

A great deal of the country through which we traveled is yet unshorn of its rich growth of timber, and uncultivated. As we ran through Mississippi I could easily delude myself into the belief that I was making a trip from Zanzibar to Lake Albert Nyausa, or up the Congo; for at every station negroes would be there in swarms, and as we penetrated the dense forests of that state it was not an uncommon thing to see them in twos and threes, on the banks of some stream, fishing, or out in the gloom of the woods gathering berries.

As the train ran by they would indulge in the wildest yells. Many of the smaller negroes wore nothing save the aesthetic gunny-sack, with holes cut at the corners of the bottom for the arms, and one at the center for the neck, that was intended to cover nature's nudity. Having some idea of the length of a gunny-sack, I will leave you to your sweet imagination to judge of the picture.

Some of the country we traversed can only be equaled in wildness and contour by the "bad lands," some was rich, productive and beautiful.

Mobile is truly the home of good, true democrats, negroes, oysters, mocking birds and lassitude. I have taken same pains to pry into the race disturbances, and I am highly gratified to learn that the people have confidently felt that they can now desecrate the beginning of the end of that unhallowed trouble.

They say they have tried many ways to solve the vexed question, none of which have given any proof of success until this one; and this, they say, will definitely put the matter at rest. No longer will there be any interference with the colored man being the recipient of all of the privileges vouchsafed to him by the constitution. On the other hand, the whites feel warranted, from the sporadic experiments already made, in saying that when the entire race has been inducted into this new reconstructionary phase of existence that it will be an effective restraint against an uprising of the colored people. I am constrained, from the cogency of the argument, to concede the same—at least until Gabriel shall rent the air of judgment morn with his "B flat."

The scheme above mentioned is that they are now utilizing the negro for fish bait. The more conservative element express the belief that if the fish crop holds out a few years that peace and plenty will reign supreme.

I am told by a gentleman who seems to be possessed of an accurate sense of observation and a liberal endowment of morality and justice in his make-up that one of the most serious complaints preferred by the colored man against a certain element of the south was in his opinion against the wrong party; that he thought Providence was directly accountable for such conditions. But the old style colored man's superstitious adoration for the Supreme Being would not permit him for one moment to hazard the sacrilegious suspicion that the Supreme Being would frolic in the funny freak of creating two distinct shades of color in the same family.

With the present amalgamated appearance of the colored race, I incline to the opinion that if miscegenation was permitted by law it would be a much more favored theory of sentiment than the "fish bait" solution.

The question of the future of the colored race is certainly dimly perplexing. The whole thing must rest upon the mercy, justice and intelligence of the white race. I sincerely believe now that their condition is as good among the people of the south as it would be among the people of the north. They seem to be radiant with the hope of a "better day coming." Hope seems to have the effect of spiritualizing them; and even in their hope's best and brightest aspect it seems to me to be only the shadow of an infinite bliss hereafter.

There are some people here similar to some we have in the north—with a heart capable of any wrong and a head whose every hair is a writhing reptile of mean intention. A visit here, I confess, gives me a very different idea of the situation, and I have not the least doubt that should they visit the north it would give them a different impression from that which they now have.

If there was a law or an arrangement by which every northern man should visit the south and every southern man visit the north, I believe it would do much toward obliterating the existing prejudice. I believe its benefit, politically, would be inestimable.

I almost omitted to say that I find by enquiry that "Doc" Graham has fully as good a record here as at home.

"Royal Ruby" Port Wine.

If you are reduced in vitality or strength by illness or any other cause, we recommend the use of this Old Port Wine, the very blood of the grape. A grand tonic for nursing mothers, and those reduced by wasting disease. It creates strength; improves the appetite, nature's own remedy, much preferable to drugs; guaranteed absolutely pure and over five years of age. Young wine ordinarily sold is not fit for use. CITY COUNCIL.

A Long Drawn Out Session, But Nothing Out of the Ordinary.

At last night's meeting of the city council the street commissioner reported having repaired fifty-eight sidewalks, at a cost of $288.75 to the property owners.

A remonstrance was read against accepting the paving of the alley in the rear of the Ilgenfritz block, as it is claimed the work was not properly done.

Tax bills were ordered issued for the Seventh street curbing, upon which a favorable report was made. A. T. Casey was awarded the contract to extend the sewer that is to drain the Missouri Pacific shops, his bid being 59 cents per lineal foot.

A resolution was adopted calling upon the county attorney to investigate the alleged insurance combine or trust.

The city engineer was granted an assistant for one month, at a salary of $75.

Considerable routine business of a trivial character was disposed of which was followed by the reading of reports of officers, after which the council adjourned to meet again on Thursday night.

A Card to the Public.

I am once more in business in Sedalia at the old stand, 401 West Main, the old Riley barn. Having purchased the same of Bowers & Bouldin, I will be pleased to see all my old friends and the public in general whenever they want first-class light livery. Special attention to boarders and transient stock. Horses and mules bought and sold.

A Couple of Festivals.

The lawn social given at the residence of Mrs. Chas. Keck, last night, by the ladies of Sacred Heart church, was a thoroughly enjoyable affair and a clever sum was realized for the church fund.

At No. 220 Ohio street the ladies of Queen City hive, Ladies of Macabees, were also at home to friends with choice refreshments last night, and a very liberal patronage was extended.

Will Sue for $2000.

Mose Ramey, the switchman, last evening retained Messrs. Sangree & Lamm to bring suit against the city for $2000 damages because of a fall sustained by plaintiff on an alleged dilapidated sidewalk on East Third a few nights ago. Rainey's back was badly sprained, and he has been unable to resume work since, nor will he be able to do so for some time yet. The claim will be presented to the council for allowance, and, if refused, suit will then be instituted in the circuit court.
